

FREDERICK ENGSTRUM ATTACKS FORD'S OFFER

DOVE OF PEACE IS HOVERING NEAR IN LABOR WARFARE ALONG THE RAND

Backbone of "Revolution" Appears to Have Been Broken Tuesday

REBEL FORCES ARE SURROUNDED, REPORT

Colonel Nussey Leading The Attack In The Northern Hills

(International News Service.)

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, March 14.—The backbone of the labor revolution has been broken, according to all indications today. The rebel forces in the eastern and western part of the Rand mine fields are being surrounded.

Ford's offer was still in the hands of the revolutionaries at last reports, but the stronghold was under attack with the government forces using both artillery and airplanes.

Colonel Nussey is leading an attack against the rebels in the northern hills where the revolutionaries occupy strong positions. The city has returned to normal conditions.

About 2,500 rebels have been captured. General Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, who has been directing military operations against the rebels, is entirely satisfied with the situation. He expects to return to Cape Town soon.

It is believed that when all the casualties are checked up, it will be found that the dead and wounded will number 2,000.

CONFERENCE HELD

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, March 14.—Anthracite operators and mine workers have whipped into shape preliminary plans for the opening of their conference tomorrow.

General committees on each side have conferred and await the call that places them on opposite sides of the conference table. The opening session will bring together the general committees, but the main work will later be carried on by sub-committees, four from the side of the operators and four or five from the mine workers.

On the eve of the session friendliness prevailed. This does not indicate that the conference will not be spirited. Present attention of the miners demand for an increase of 20 per cent in wages is very apt to bring from the operators the flat statement that they are not present to discuss increases.

COTTON MARKET OPENS IRREGULAR

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, March 14.—The cotton market was somewhat irregular at the opening today. June was 14 points lower and other months were two points lower to four points higher. About 17 notices were issued. Wall street and commission houses were buyers early and Liverpool was a seller with cables weaker. Another drop in foreign exchange led to selling here, but some new buying absorbed the offerings and prices rallied a little above last night's close.

Aged Man Takes Life; Had Been Ill

(International News Service.)
BIRMINGHAM, March 14.—Dependence caused by continued ill health is believed to have been responsible for Thomas H. Senteny, 65, ending his life by sending a bullet through his brain here this morning. Senteny, until recently, was a merchant in Birmingham, but retired from business several months ago because of a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Edmundson Enters Race For Place in Congress

The eighth congressional district, for the first time in the Solid South's history, has a woman candidate for congress.

Announcement was made today that Mrs. Lelia Seton Edmundson has filed with the secretary of state her declaration of candidacy for the seat held by Judge Edward B. Almon, of Tusculum.

Announcement also was made that campaign plans will be formulated within the next few days and Mrs. Edmundson will wage an active fight for the place as representative in the house of the people of the Tennessee Valley.

Her campaign will be predicated on the slogan: "A Farmer for Farmers," it was stated. She is a dirt farmer, having operated the Wilder plantation for many years and her friends declare she is thoroughly conversant with all of the difficulties and all of the problems of the farm.

Through her representation of herself and others in the sale of cotton abroad and other farming movements, she has gained wide business and executive training and has added much to her fame as a woman of unusual ability.

Plans for the campaign of the local entrant into the congressional race have not yet been entirely completed, it was stated, but it is planned to open headquarters immediately and carry the campaign into every nook and corner of the eighth district.

It has been rumored for several weeks that Mrs. Edmundson was considering making the race and since first announcement of the press that she had the campaign under consideration, it is declared she has received much encouragement from various parts of the district.

It is said she intends to make speaking dates in every county in the district and to carry her campaign and expound her platform to all of the voters. She is known as a splendid speaker and her campaign will be watched with interest by the entire South.

New Tax Adjuster Assumes Office

Eugene Bailey, the new tax adjuster for Morgan county, began his duties in the office Tuesday morning. Mr. Bailey realizes he has a big job and will proceed cautiously and carefully until he fully acquaints himself with the duties of his office. Mr. Bailey indicated he would at all times endeavor to be fair and impartial in the discharge of his duties, considering it simply a business proposition between him and the taxpayers of the county, and in discharging the duties of the office would be fair to the state and taxpayers as well.

County Court Has Very Quiet Day

The Morgan county court adjourned Tuesday morning until Wednesday. All cases for the day having been disposed of, juries serving for the week were discharged until Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The case of Grievy vs. Robinson was tried yesterday and went to the jury. The jury announced this morning they were unable to agree on a verdict and were discharged.

RIVER STAGE

Chattanooga: river 30.2, falling; weather cloudy; rainfall .03. Bridgeport: river 22.3, falling; weather cloudy; rainfall .12. Guntersville: river 35.5, rising; weather cloudy; rainfall .32.

REMAINS ABROAD

Captain Virgil Bell, of the Eighth Infantry, U. S. A., and Mrs. Bell, will remain in Germany. Captain Bell's organization is not coming home, the unit being assigned to foreign duty. Mrs. Bell is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Vohlers, of Albany.

SELLERS SEEM TO BE OUT OF LUCK

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 14.—The name "Sellers" occupied a formidable position in the headlines of Montgomery newspapers during the past 48 hours. Dr. W. A. Sellers, well known physician of Montgomery, was severely shot by Leonard Seawell in a dispute at the Exchange hotel. John Sellers was shot through the hand by the watchman of the Country club who mistook him for a burglar when he attempted to enter the club house early Sunday morning. H. L. Sellers was dangerously hurt when an automobile driven by a negro ran into his car at Hull and High streets Sunday night.

The three injured persons are now in Montgomery hospitals. Seawell was released on bond shortly after the shooting after a charge of assault with intent to murder had been placed against him. John Sellers issued a statement in which he said his injuries were received accidentally when he attempted to get into the club house to obtain a package which he had left earlier in the night.

Bernard Murphy and Gordon Betts, negroes, are held on charges of colluding with Sellers' car and causing injuries which sent H. L. Sellers to the hospital.

LENINE ILL, BUT IS NOT SERIOUSLY

(International News Service.)
MOSCOW, March 14.—Nicolai Lenine, head of the Soviet government of Russia, is still in his country retreat recuperating from illness. He is suffering from a nervous breakdown. Reports that Lenine was about to die proved to be unfounded.

Physicians, however, have ordered him to remain in the country as long as possible and away from politics.

Insane Negro Is Excitement Cause

Early Tuesday morning a crazy negro in the vicinity of the box factory caused considerable excitement, and Deputy Sheriff Stewart and Officer Lackey of the Albany police force were called to arrest him. They found him quite violent, attempting to bite and otherwise inflict injury. They took him in charge and placed him in the county jail. The negro is known as Son Sherrod, and was said to be very violent and dangerous.

Dunaway Now Is Sitting With Board

A. M. Dunaway is now a full fledged member of the county board of revenue, having received the information that his commission had been issued from the office of Governor Kilby and was in the mail.

Mr. Dunaway sat with the board at yesterday's session, and will continue until the business of this session has been disposed of.

FAILS TO CLIMB

The "human fly" who was scheduled to scale the walls of the Johnson building Monday evening, did not connect with the job. An objection arose in sight and the idea was abandoned. It is not known whether an attempt to scale the walls of another building here will be attempted. A large crowd assembled at the appointed hour Monday evening to see the performance, and was somewhat disappointed.

PRESIDENT INFORMS MEMBERS OF PARTY HE WILL 'VETO' BILL FOR SOLDIER BONUS

Executive Will Oppose the Measure In Its Present Form

REPUBLICANS FAIL TO HEED THE WARNING

Members of Committee Go Forward With Plan To Report O. K.

(International News Service.)

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14.—President Harding has informed members of his vacation party that if congress goes ahead and passes the soldier bonus measure as at present constituted, he will veto the measure.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Sharp warning in press dispatches from Florida that the soldier bonus bill in its present form would be vetoed by President Harding, if it ever gets through congress, apparently had little effect on members of the house ways and means committee when they met today to render a favorable majority report on the measure before presenting it to the house.

Republican leaders were determined to have the bill ready to report out of the committee late today, although it may not be laid before the house until tomorrow.

FARMERS BEHIND WITH NEW CROPS

Farmers from every section of Morgan county attending court here this week state that spring preparations for a crop are backward indeed. Very little land has been turned and the continued rain puts it further away with every recurring downpour.

The farmers are a unit in complaining on the fact that they cannot sell what produce they have at a profit. Freight rates, they complain, are so extremely high they preclude the possibility of shipping at a profit. Many took advantage of curing houses for storing their potato crop last fall, and adding the cost of storing and curing to the cost of raising and the price available now plus the freight charges renders it impossible to ship at a profit over last fall prices. Especially is this so pertaining to potatoes and corn, of which there is large quantities of both waiting to be sold.

There is annually sold each spring large quantities of sweet potatoes for bedding, in order to raise plants. Whether the low price prevailing now will seriously curtail the potato acreage this season is a conjecture. Safe it is to say, it will cause a tendency to cause a large curtailment in the acreage unless something can be guaranteed as to price for the crop to be raised, or the selling of the large crop now on hand at a profit.

DENBY DEFENDS A LARGER NAVY

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—"A navy that can take the offensive is the only certain assurance against war" was Secretary of the Navy Denby's warning to congress in a statement made public today.

A navy capable of defensive fighting only "is a certain loser," Denby declared. The secretary made the statement in supporting his plea for adequate carriers for the navy's air force. He declared that the need of airplane carriers, in the fleet is far greater now than before the terms of the naval treaty were laid down. Japan and Great Britain are both already ahead of the United States in this respect, it was stated.

Florida Mayor Likes Modern Styles.

Mayor Frank Fortune Pulver of St. Petersburg, Fla., and others at a party.

Pretty girls will not be forced "to wear foolish and unnecessary frills" on their bathing suits if Mayor Frank Fortune Pulver, of St. Petersburg, Fla., has anything to do with styles. With the Purify League in his city advocating the abolition of the one-piece bathing suit and the adoption of more demure costumes, Pulver has announced that fair damsel vacationists in his city may choose their own styles. His edict made him popular and here he is shown with a bevy of pretty bathers. In the rear are Dorothy McClatchey, Montreal, and Margaret Collany, Atlanta. In front are Pauline Buhner, Chicago; Mary Grigsby, San Francisco; Mayor Pulver, St. Petersburg; May Buhner, Chicago, and Mary Bullard, Cleveland. Four of the girls serve as lifeguards.

SHERIFF IS SLAIN BY TWO 'SHINERS WHO LAY IN WAIT

(International News Service.)
CHATTANOOGA, March 14.—Sheriff I. L. Smith was shot and killed instantly near Cleveland, Tenn., today while raiding a whiskey still. Two operators of the still ran at the approach of the officers, but opened fire on him after concealing themselves in some brush. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail of the slayers.

KILBY STATEMENT CAUSES SENSATION

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 14.—Governor Kilby's statement from Anniston Sunday in which he declared that the Anniston gas rate case might as well be submitted to the board of directors of the Alabama Power company as to the public service commission of Alabama and that B. H. Cooper and S. P. Gaillard, associate commissioners, had leaned toward the corporations in their decisions caused a sensation in the capital yesterday.

Throughout the day the statement was the main subject of conversation. The commissioners involved in the statement were hearing the general rate case but announced that a reply will be made as soon as the statement can be studied and the reply prepared.

Governor Kilby's statement charged that the people need expect no relief until associates are elected who will stand with A. G. Patterson, who became president of the commission last January. He said Mr. Patterson is a friend of the people but can do nothing until he is given other members who will work with him.

The statement caused surprise because it had not been known that the governor would take a personal part in the present campaign. However, it has been known that he was opposed to at least one of the commissioners.

HEARINGS BEGUN

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 14.—(Special)—The public service commission Monday began the hearing of the railroads' side of that portion of the general rate case involving intrastate rates on coal shipments from the Birmingham district. C. D. Quinn, assistant to the vice president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, took the stand at the beginning of the hearing and occupied it the entire day.

DETROIT MAN'S BID PLAYED FROM EACH ANGLE BY RIVAL OF 'AUTOMOBILE KING'

Third Entrant In Shoals Race Appears Before the Committee

DECLARES FORD WILL "ROB AGRICULTURE"

Two "Basic Defects" In Ford's Offer Pointed Out By Engstrom

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals, if accepted by congress, would "rob and not aid agriculture," Frederick E. Engstrom, also a bidder for the project, today charged in a statement submitted to the house military affairs committee.

Ford's offer to the government for the nitrate and power project in Alabama was attacked by Engstrom from every angle. He urged rejection of it as "bad business" for the government.

The Detroit manufacturer's announced intention of using nitrate plant number 1, on the Shoals property, for the making of automobile parts and not nitrates for fertilizer drew caustic comment from his rival bidder.

"No one who is concerned in providing this country with an adequate supply of nitrate and cheaper fertilizer can favor scrapping nitrate plant number 1, which would mean abandonment of the Haber process, the cheapest process known. All the testimony before the committee is to the effect that the Haber process is the best and that it has the greatest possibilities of development and all agree that nitrate plant number 1 can be easily remodeled so as to make it work with complete success."

There are two basic defects in the Ford offer, according to Engstrom. One is that it is not a good business proposition for the government. The other, Engstrom holds, is that "it defeats the diverting the public money already invested at Muscle Shoals or to be invested largely to serve the end of a private monopoly, instead of using it to serve the public welfare."

"It would be most imprudent to lease Muscle Shoals with only enough power reserve to operate nitrate plant number 2 with all the remainder of the 1,000,000 potential horsepower surrendered and mortgaged to a private monopoly for 100 years or more," Engstrom said.

Ford's offer, Engstrom declared, has to be accepted or rejected as a whole, while his bid is divisible. Ford's intention to capitalize his operating company at $10,000,000 was attacked by Engstrom as inadequate and amounting only "to robbing agriculture."

Francis G. Caffey Billed For Speech

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 14.—Francis G. Caffey, of New York, native of Alabama, former district attorney for New York and a prominent figure in the nation, has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address at the meeting of the Alabama State Bar association, which will be held at some point in North Alabama the last week in April. The acceptance of an invitation tendered by the executive committee of the association arrived today.

Mr. Caffey's address will be delivered April 28 on a subject which will be selected by him. The board has not selected the meeting place but it will be in North Alabama, probably in Birmingham.

WEATHER

For Alabama: Showers and thunderstorms tonight. Probably clearing Wednesday morning. Cooler Wednesday.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

DISCOURAGING INFORMATION FOR ANY WHO MAY BE "WET" AT HEART.

Information from New York city, and from the state of New Jersey, recognized as the strongest holds of the liquor interests, as carried in a number of reliable publications, including Senator Capper's Weekly, is decidedly discouraging for any who at heart wish for the return of the license system for the liquor traffic. The Weekly in question states that New York city papers are carrying statistics to show how prohibition has helped business in the world's largest city, and goes on to show how Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey has blackened the hopes of the wets in his state. The following is from Capper's Weekly of February 11th:

Nevertheless, eastern sentiment for law enforcement is steadily growing, just as it did in Kansas in the early days of prohibition when speak-easies were common. In New Jersey, the original anti-Volstead state, the legislature has five bills before it, all passed by the House to enforce the prohibition amendment, and Senator Frelinghuysen comes home from Washington to declare New Jersey has no intention of playing politics on this question or trucking to the "wets."

In New York City, where the hotbed of anti-prohibition is to be found, if anywhere in the United States, the newspapers are printing statistics to show how greatly that city is benefited by prohibition.

Undoubtedly woman suffrage has had a good deal to do with the weakness of the "wets," just as it formerly did in Kansas.

Notwithstanding that a nation-wide propaganda is being conducted at this moment in behalf of legalizing wine and beer, and that 30 anti-prohibition organizations have launched a combined drive to bring this about, the law-abiding and prohibition sentiment of the country is steadily growing and stiffening, even in what formerly were the saloon strongholds.

The same newspaper makes reference to the organized effort now being made by the "wets" despite the odds against them, to control the next Congress. The position is taken that no direct above board methods will be used, but that deception and indirection are to be resorted to.

The article continues:
What men and women voters who stand for law observance must watch this year will be the attempt to run dummy "dry" candidates against genuine dries in the Congressional elections, which will be attempted in order to split the prohibition vote and let the "wet" candidate win. We must spoil that plot.

It will be recalled by those who remember the warnings given by members of the Prohibition Flying Squadron, when they spoke in a Decatur church recently, that almost the same language was used by them as quoted above. The leader of the squadron stated that the "wets" were fully organized in Alabama, as they are in the large majority of the states, and that their present activities consisted in circulating petitions calling for the return of wines and beer, at the earliest possible moment. Forewarned is forearmed against the activities of the "wets". All the people of this state and section need to know is that the "wets" are up to something, to fully realize that that "something" is not for the prosperity, good and welfare of a single person in the world.

The idea of some that there should be held a state wide exhibit at Birmingham is a worthy movement and should be heartily concurred in by all of the citizens of this state. There is no doubt but that a most creditable display could be made. The idea is to have the manufactured products of the state gathered at a central place and interest the whole people in the project. The advertising which the state would get from the idea would do much to develop her varied material resources and interest others from without the confines of the state. Alabama over could make an exhibit that would reflect great credit. Her manufactured products are many, and her manufactured products from her own natural resources would be an eye opener.

Being correct chronologically speaking does not help a bit, unless you are speaking in the present tense. For instance if you say "I have paid my debts"; or if you say "I will pay my debts"—the people of the present are not interested—they want you to say "I pay you what I owe you right now," and then do it.

When the streams are out of their banks, and the rains still descend and the floods come it is perfectly true to say: "All of the mere soil roads in the county are practically impassable," which means to remind us once again that the only roads that are roads are hard surface roads.

Babe Ruth batted the first offering over the newly heightened ball park at New Orleans; but some kill joy will say it was a frame up advertising for larger gate receipts.

IN A TIGHT PLACE

An exchange tells a story of a man who was hunting one day in a forest. A terrible storm came up. He looked about for shelter. There was none. It began to rain in torrents. So he crawled into a hollow log. It fitted snugly.

The rain lasted for hours. The water soaked through the wood. The log began to swell. When the storm was over the hunter could not get out. We strained with all his might to free himself. But the log held tight. Exhausted, he gave up. He knew that he would starve to death.

Like a drowning man, he saw his whole life flash before him, especially his mistakes. Suddenly he remembered that he had not acted exactly decently as a citizen of his town, and that he had never started a bank account, and that his wife and baby, penniless, would starve.

These thoughts made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log without difficulty. —Exchange.

THE GORGAS MEMORIAL.

The proposed Gorgas Memorial Institute, is a story of the development of a great humanitarian movement to prevent disease throughout the world. It is an opportunity now being presented to the people of the United States to assist in paying an international tribute to our compatriot, "The World Physician" William Crawford Gorgas.

It is fitting that Alabama, the birth place of this great internationally known physician should take the initiative in this great movement. Never before in the history of the world has there been undertaken the establishment of an international memorial planned by the nations of the world to commemorate the great humanitarian work of an Alabama surgeon. General William Crawford Gorgas. We of the south should not forget what Gorgas did for us. As a matter of simple gratitude we should do most to establish a great memorial to him. It will do more for the agricultural and industrial development of the southern states than anything that has been done since the eradication of yellow fever from the south and from the world. With the elimination of tropical diseases to which the south is subjected the southern states and the tropics will become centers of industry and population of the world. The proposed Gorgas Memorial will consist of two complimentary institutions, the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Tropical and Preventative Medicine of Panama, Central America and the Gorgas School of Sanitation at Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The institute at Panama will be for research work in tropical diseases, a place where men of medical schools and laboratories of the world may go to study and to develop methods to prevent tropical diseases; while the school at Tuscaloosa, the home of General Gorgas and near the spot where his mother and father are buried and where the University of Alabama is located will be for the purpose of training for practical sanitation, for which there is so great a need at present. —Huntsville Telegram.

Money is alright, and under the system of government and the eternal fitness of things it would be utterly impossible to exist without some form of exchange, and to garner it is no crime. But, to constantly keep hammering into the minds of the youth that an education will fit and equip them to earn money, has caused many a boy to drop out of the schools before he was really equipped to follow a plow with that degree of accomplishment and understanding of the forces of nature, to say nothing of the positions calling for more complete technical education.

Teach him that an education fits and prepares him to be of real service to his country. Teach him that work is the sauce of the soul which brings joy and contentment. Teach him that his first duty is to serve faithfully in what ever field of activity he chooses, not with the central thought always dominant that the acquisition of money alone will make him happy now, and famous, when a marble shaft marks the place where his dust reposes. Teach him that he who serves builds his own monument, a structure more imperishable than granite. Teach him, and impress upon him that the memory of those who have gone out and on, were those who gave unselfishly of their time and talent, that they who lived then, and they who would live in the future might have a better place in which the activities of a life might find more fertile ground in which to carry still further the activities and ideas of they who served for the serving sake, because the principle which they advocated was right. Work in order to serve, and not merely to "get by".

It is a noticeable thing that many who plant corn make no effort at all to see that they plant the best varieties. Just so it is corn they feel satisfied that they will harvest a good crop of the staff of life. Seemingly the idea is never entertained that like produces like in corn as in other seeds.

Great care is taken in the selection of planting cotton seed, many not being satisfied with the varieties they have but spend annually large sums with which to get new and pure seed. Is it not as important that a pure variety of corn should be selected as in the case of other seeds? It would seem so, especially when to this product we look for the staff of life. Wheat and oat seed are selected with care. No clovers will be sown without the guarantee that they are of the best.

It is of utmost importance that the seeds which we plant be of the very and tested before planting. In this way much of the unpleasant feature of replanting can be avoided, besides, it is costly to do the same thing over two or three times.

Congress no doubt has the ability if the desire was present to dispose of the proposition in a worthy manner. The shifting of responsibility does not augur well; it is not an endorsement of the kind that would carry weight that the congress is composed of men who have a vision, and are willing to back up that vision, supported by the facts.

President Harding ran into inclement weather in Florida—and he will find the people of the flower state also unkind if he says anything withholding J. W. Weeks et al.

Late reports state that money from "abroad" financed the uprising now on in South Africa. If Russian money were any account we would think it came from the Bolsheviks.

Advice to Pup-Nurses

Dogs are all right, but let your ambition in life be for something higher than to become a "pup-nurse."

It takes less care and less food to keep a baby than a lap dog, and we have often wondered at the heart of a childless woman who would prefer to spend her affection on a dog when there are countless beautiful baby orphans who would fill her with the most wonderful love in the world. It would seem that an intelligent woman could love another woman's baby, if she could love any dog's pup.

How much more interesting it ought to be for a woman of leisure to undertake to rear a tiny human being, which could respond to every effort at training and could be made into a glorious and wonderful mature person, than to undertake to raise a dog that would never be anything but just a dog!

If little orphans were to take the place of lap dogs, there would not be an orphanage in the world—not one!

Bret Harte, American poet and novelist, was born at Albany, N. Y., August 25, 1839. While a youth he went to California, where, several years later he founded the Overland Monthly in San Francisco. In 1870 he was made professor of recent literature in the University of California, but resigned and returned to New York the following year. He was United States consul at Creford, Germany, 1878-80, and at Glasgow, 1880-85, and afterward lived in England. Among his many works are: "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," "Condensed Novels," etc., "The Heavens Chime," "Poems," "Stories of the Sierras," "Tales of the Argonauts," "Gibbs Conroy," "Thankful Blossom," "Two Men of Sandy Bar," "California Stories," "A Millionaire of Rough and Ready," "A Drift From Redwood Camp" and "A Phyllis of the Sierras."

Her Daddy Was All Right.

When I was twelve years old I called upon Mary (aged eleven) one Sunday evening. I was all dressed up and had suffered an awful mother's cherished blues from the garden. I stole out the alley gate, traversed Mary's back yard and she met me at the kitchen door. We sat on the back steps. I restrained a strong impulse to flee when Mary said, "Father is coming. I think." He was a gruff, bad man. When he saw us I was terrified. What he said was, "How's the boy tonight?" and he took us both in the house and sent little brother after ice cream and Mary's mother cut a cake. So I wasn't kicked out by an irate father, after all; in fact, he still likes me and often jokes about the flag and the kitchen steps, although another young man walked up the aisle with Mary. —Chicago Journal.

Beware of Eye Strain.

Irritability of the stomach, loss of appetite, dyspeptic symptoms after partaking of food, dizziness, nausea and vomiting are often caused by eye strain. After the eyes are examined and glasses are worn the symptoms disappear. Children during the period of school life who frequently suffer from headache, loss of appetite and dizziness and are behind in their work should have their eyes examined and the eye strain relieved by prescribed glasses.

Peanut Known as Goober Pea.
The territory of Tidewater Virginia grows more peanuts than any other part of the United States. To that territory may be added parts of the Carolinas, also great peanut-growing states. Some places in the Carolinas the peanut is referred to as "the goober pea."

Purposely Made for All Exterior Painting

When a man can buy a paint, knowing it will cover on an average at least 100 sq. ft., two coats, more than ordinary paint, he is willing to pay more for it. That is why Lucas Paint has always been a wise purchase. Its covering capacity alone makes the use of Lucas Paint an economy. In addition, it has the quality of being a long-lived, sturdy paint that combats and prevents deterioration and decay. Lucas Paint has always been the same good paint, purposely made for all exterior painting.

Diary of a Fashion Model

By GRACE THORNLIFFE

She Discusses the New Off-the-Shoulder Neckline.

LAST night Milton Burnaugh invited me to go out with him for an evening's entertainment. I was delighted at the prospect. Milton is an old school friend. He always liked race-horses, and is now sporting editor on one of the papers.

"I haven't many nights away from the office," he said over the phone, "and want to spend this evening at something very frivolous. What shall it be?"

"Let's go somewhere and dance," I suggested, feeling glad he had given me the choice. "I wanted to see attractive women wearing beautiful clothes, and I hadn't learned a new dancing step for ages."

We went to one of the newly opened cabarets for dinner, and lingered on to watch the arrivals and enjoy the music. "You must help me to pick out the most attractive gown," I said. "I want some new ideas."

"There's a new idea just coming in the door," answered the ready Milton. "Wait until you see it."

A slender brunette with smoothly parted hair was just edging through the tables as I turned around. Her right shoulder was toward me, and as she turned around I almost gave a gasp. Then I remembered the new off-the-shoulder gowns. Madame had designed one last week.

"What do you call that soft black material?" asked Milton.

"Velvet," I answered, wondering that even a man could fail to know velvet, and especially this season, when it has appeared on such varied occasions.

"There's always something fetching about a woman dressed in black," commented my masculine friend.

Black Velvet Fashions This Attractive Evening Frock.

"Yes," I agreed, "particularly if her skin is as lovely as this woman's."

"But is it really meant to drop off the shoulder?" he asked with a puzzled air.

"Yes," I laughingly replied. "You may have thought at first that she merely forgot the top hook, but that's a carefully studied effect."

"I blame that on the modern age," Milton said with a smile. "Except that I remember an old portrait at home. It's of my great-aunt, and her dress drops off the shoulder in the same way."

"Yes, I remember it, too," I reminisced. "In those days I rather thought it must have slipped down while she was posing, and that the artist painted it there because she had such a lovely shoulder."

"Can you sketch this frock for me, Milton?" I asked. "I remember how perfectly you could caricature the children at school."

"This beautiful lady furnishes much happier inspiration," he replied, reaching for the menu card and signaling the waiter for a pencil.

"The lines of this gown are so perfect I'm sure Madame will be interested," I observed.

"It is meant to drop longer at the sides," Milton interrupted, pencil poised in air.

"Of course it is," I answered. "Do you think a real modiste would let that happen unless she meant it to be?"

"She might have done it accidentally the first time, and realized it as a stroke of genius," he proffered.

"That's plausible enough," I conceded. "And now put the menu in your pocket for safe-keeping while we finish this dance."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

How to Start a Savings Fund and Watch It Grow.

THERE is no one more eager to save money than the housewife. If she is working on a budget system her saving is not apt to be on a large scale, but from a fairly generous allowance one may always save in a small way, which becomes in time quite appreciable. Many persons despise small savings, but a slow method of accumulating is also a steady one, and a queer thing about persistent effort is the many ways which seem to open up to increase the fund when one is ready to take advantage of them.

An ambitious woman of my acquaintance has not spent a penny given her in change since we went into the war, with the result that she has saved from fifty to a hundred dollars a year out of her coppers spent in war-savings stamps—not big, but the beginning of a nest egg, and the pennies have never been missed. Another woman has a system of small paper banks which she uses in paying household bills. In one she drops daily money, in another milk money, in a third bakery money, in the fourth money for general provisions, into the fifth if there be a fifth, help money, and into the sixth gas and electric money. Bills are paid weekly and monthly. By dropping this money into the various banks when the bills come in the money is ready to meet them, and has not been spent for other things. The money is never touched for emergency purposes any more than if it were not within reach, because she always considers it as already paid out. At the end of the week all the extra that is left over goes into her saving-fund box. She claims she never was successful until she managed in this way, that she was always behind in her bills, because she spent the money without thinking of bills until they arrived.

We never can advance in small savings until we learn to meet our expenses, then subtract our savings from our personal needs. If we can learn to make our ordinary hats and house gowns we make an appreciable saving right there. If we do up our fine blouses ourselves we make another step ahead. We may save on laundry bills by using table sets for breakfast and luncheon, even for dinner if without guests, and save the price of doing up tablecloths and big napkins. If we want finer underwear it is much cheaper to get good patterns and good materials and make it at home, and, besides, the underwear we make usually fits better and lasts longer.

In the kitchen there are endless ways of saving without stinting the table. Bones, racks and trimmings all make excellent soup foundation, but they too often find their way into the garbage bucket. Greases like suet, chicken fat, lamb and veal fat should be tried out with a little milk or water, with a pinch of salt added, and strained twice into small pots or clean cans. This home fat is excellent to cook with, and saves buying lard or any of the other cooking fat. Bacon fat from the breakfast table may be combined with other pork fat for potato frying.

A bottle of sour cream may always be made into a small pat of fresh butter in 15 or 20 minutes by whipping with a silver fork right in the bottle. It is in. This gives a half-glass of buttermilk and a good quarter-pound of butter after it is carefully washed in cold water.

There are dozens of other little ways of saving in foods which enable one to live well and reasonably. Sharp knives aid in saving food, because they cut it properly instead of tearing and mutilating it. The picking of bones and racks by those who do so thoroughly yields a variety of good hams and other saving dishes.

Pressing of the man's trousers and ties means a small but worth-while saving, and takes but a few minutes. Dress skirts are also easy to press at home. If the money saved in this way were dropped in a savings-box, even for a few months, the amount accumulated would surprise the owner. The trouble is, we never count these savings as such, but are apt to complain of our extra work instead of being glad to earn for our savings are legion.

One woman designs and superintends dinner, changing for the design and her own time by the hour. Another makes wedding and birthday cakes on order. Another gives four hours a day to convalescent nursing. Think of what you can do best and "go to it."

For a Church Supper.

When taking our food in dishes or tins to church dinners and suppers or to your neighbors, try writing your name on a piece of adhesive plaster and stick it onto the dish or tin, and you will find that you will have no more trouble in losing your dishes, as it will not be washed off easily.

Red Ink for Emperors Alone.

The Roman emperor used a very expensive red ink in writing signatures, and its use was prohibited to all others except that their sons, if of adult age, could use it; otherwise they must have recourse to green ink.

Does Your Back Ache?

It's usually a sign of sick kidneys, especially if the kidney action is disordered, passages scanty or too frequent. Don't wait for more serious troubles. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Albany man's testimony:

W. C. Wilson, carpenter, 603 Commercial street, says: "Heavy lifting put my kidneys in a weakened condition. My kidneys didn't act right and the secretions scalded in passage and were highly colored. There was a lameness through my back and I couldn't get up when I was down. When I stooped, such sharp pains took me in my back. I almost sank to my knees. There was a heavy, dull ache through the small of my back, which made me restless at night and I couldn't sleep. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I used them. Doan's cured me of all the trouble and I am well and strong now and I suffer no more from kidney complaint."

The Unexpected Complication That Met Madge and Lillian in the Kitchen.

"I KNEW IT!" I exclaimed, woman-like, as Lillian and I, at Marion's frigid, cold call, made a dash to the kitchen from the veranda where we had arranged the code summons to my father and Allen Drake.

"Whatever is Mother doing in the kitchen? I thought I had every bit of the work done, and that she was lying down."

"She was," Lillian rejoined breathlessly, as she ran, "but she probably seized the chance of our being gone to do some extra bit of cleaning."

The truth of her supposition was brought forcibly home to us as we burst into the kitchen door. An immense dish cupboard in the kitchen stood open, and on the floor beside it in the midst of a clatter of broken crockery, and a mother-in-law's face, pale beneath the blood that was trickling from a cut in her forehead, and her left arm hanging in limp fashion sickeningly suggestive of a fracture.

"I slipped to my knees beside her, and put my arm around her, releasing Marion, while Lillian, with a quick survey of the situation in characteristic fashion, the stimulation in her first-aid kit, and call to Uncle Dicky in his room as you go," she said, and as the child slipped water into a basin, and with a soft cloth began to lave my mother-in-law's face.

My mother-in-law's face, and she spoke feebly.

"The chair—slipped," she said.

Lillian and I looked at each other in exasperated amazement. This woman of over 70 years had put a box upon a kitchen chair, and had climbed upon it in order to clean the upper shelf of the cupboard. An upset pan with spongy water flowing from it completed the mute story of her foolish endeavor.

"What—what is it?" What happened to Mother? Dicky, white-tipped, breathless from running, rushed into the room and to his mother's side.

"Should think you could look after her better than this, Madge! How did she fall?"

"If you'll—save your breath—to—cool your—broth—Richard," his mother said with difficulty, but with her old tartness, "you—may—just—out—something."

"You—may—just—out—something," Lillian's lips, but for myself I felt no amusement. That part of my brain which was not filled with alarm for my mother-in-law's life, for his unjust blame of me. However, I reflected, bitterly, I ought to be used to it, for there, in our life together, for and for Dicky's first impulsive words have been those of censure.

"Please get a doctor as soon as you can, Dicky-bird," Lillian said softly.

WHY BARBER WILL BAN GIVING FREE HAIRCUTS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14—Sol Stibel, local barber, "tells the world" that he will never give another fellow a free haircut, even though his hair be as long as a hula hula grass skirt.

A haircut he gave away a Sunday or so ago cost Stibel a total of $61—and not Mexican money, either.

He took into his shop a boy who needed a haircut, but who didn't have the money and exercised his clippers for a bang-up good workout.

There is a law prohibiting barbers from operating on Sunday, and Stibel was fined $40 and $11 cents. On top of that he paid $10 fee to a professional bandman.

WILL HOLD MEETING

Off slips her gaily dress, and in her dreams of the Lenten days to be she sees herself in simpler costume—the frivolous butterfly dress is gone and with the new dress comes a deeper feeling in which the SPIRIT has greater partnership with the HEART!

Public Warned Against Paying Money To Advertisers For Jobs At Shoals

WASHINGTON, March 14—Large numbers of persons have been made victims of fraudulent advertising for labor in connection with the Muscle Shoals project near Florence, Ala., it is said in a statement issued today by the United States civil service commission.

It is stated by the commission that there has been brought to its attention recent advertising throughout the country in which persons out of work have been promised positions at the Muscle Shoals project, conditioned upon their paying a registration fee of one dollar each. It is said that large numbers of unemployed men have responded, paying the required registration fee and receiving nothing in return. It is understood that the matter is to be presented to the department of justice for investigation and possible prosecution.

The civil service commission states that further operations at Muscle Shoals depend upon action of congress and that no one can say at this time whether the government will resume the work, or whether it will be conducted under private ownership or contract. In any event, the commission said, there is no justification for advertising for labor to be employed at the project. If the government undertakes to complete the work, such labor as may be necessary will be secured in the usual way through government agencies. It is said, furthermore, that it is certain that no private person or company is taking steps to secure labor for Muscle Shoals in the present uncertainty.

The civil service commission warns the public against the paying of money in the hope of securing employment at Muscle Shoals.

How You May Cultivate Beauty By Acquiring Poise and Repose

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

A NOTED teacher of physical culture has said that the intelligence and mental attitude of the pupil have more to do with the success of physical exercise than anything else. You will readily understand that this is true when you apply the rule to yourself. If you are going through some routine exercise, lying flat on your back on the floor, you may easily feel that the simple exercise in itself is futile unless you keep your aim in view.

Remember this whenever an exercise you have undertaken seems uninteresting and you feel as if you would like to waver in the course you have laid down for yourself. Form a mental picture of the improvement you wish to make in yourself. If you wish to reduce your waistline, for example, picture how much more attractive you will lie on your back on the floor or bed, with your knees bent up toward your body, and your feet resting comfortably on the floor, flat on their soles. Your arms should be relaxed at your sides.

Now raise your arms straight up from your sides, as if you were drawing a semi-circle in the air, using your arm sockets as pivots.

Your fingers should be stretched as far out as you can stretch them, and your arms should move slowly. The finishing position finds your arms straight out behind your head on the floor, and still in parallel positions.

Now stretch as you do so in walking in the morning, still extending your fingertips as far away from your body as possible. Do this stretching comfortably, so that you gain rest and relaxation from it.

Place your arms back at your sides.

Try This Relaxation Exercise.

look when, by dint of earnest effort, you have acquired the slenderness you desire. And because this added attractiveness is acquired through real honest effort on your part you will undoubtedly gain pleasure through the mental attitude you have had to build up for yourself in the process of growing thin.

To put yourself in a receptive condition for any exercise you want to undertake, never forget the importance of ease, comfort and a relaxed feeling. This must exist before the exercise can be beneficial.

If you are going to take an exercise to improve your looks and attractiveness, or if you are tired with the duties of housework and wish to snatch an odd minute or two of relaxation between times, try the following simple practice. It will relax you, thus aiding you in taking exercises which may follow, or it will rest you between your daily duties.

carrying them forward with the same semi-circular motion.

Repeat five or six times.

Then vary the exercise by stretching your arms to form half-circles on the floor, beside you instead of carrying them up over your head.

Repeat this five or six times.

In both of these exercises it is very beneficial to regulate your breathing with the exercise. Try drawing in your breath as your hands go up to position, and letting it out as you replace your hands.

The comfortable relaxed feeling you will gain from the above exercise will stand you in good stead by bridging over some of the tiresome moments in a long, hard day, and preparing you for the ones that follow.

If you are rested and at your ease, all your duties are easier to perform. And, more important than this, your poise and repose of manner will be very attractive to others.

COBBLER PROUD OVER WORK FOR PRESIDENT

EMPORIA, Kan., March 14—The proudest man in town today is E. A. Spady, a quiet cobbler, who for many years has "stuck to his last" in good old-fashioned style. For Spady recently turned out a most important job—repairing a pair of President Harding's shoes.

They attracted crowds to the cobbler's window, where they were placed on exhibition, and Spady was "shot" by the movie camera men while he put new heels and soles on them.

The President sent the shoes to Spady on the recommendation of Homer Hoch, congressman of this district, who told Harding of Spady's skill as a shoemaker.

DEAD CAN BE REVIVED, SAYS BRAZILIAN DOCTOR

The dead can be brought back to life, asserts Dr. Octavio F. Petrosio, Brazilian physician, who has arrived in New York. A blood transfusion apparatus invented by Dr. Petrosio, he declares, makes this startling feat possible. Here Dr. Petrosio is pictured demonstrating his apparatus. The blood, pumped from dead bodies, is sterilized and treated with a serum. Then it is pumped back into the body, giving renewed life. Dr. Petrosio has restored the lives of dead rats, he declares, and will do the same for humans.

BOY, 16, REMAINED BABY
(International News Service)
HUNTINGTON, Mass., March 14—A case unusual in medical annals was brought to light here in the death of Carlton Weatherwax. Although the boy was 16 years old he never outgrew his babyhood, could never talk or walk and was confined to his cradle. During the later years of his life the boy's face assumed mannish proportions, but otherwise he was an infant.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend it, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose 10 cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores—Advertisement.

BEER AND WINE WILL NOT WIN IS BREWER'S BELIEF

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 14—There isn't a chance that the sale of wine and beer will be permitted in the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Max Henius, nationally recognized authority on brewing, who recently left Chicago for a tour of European countries. Before beer and wine could be sold legally, Dr. Henius declared, it would be necessary to repeal the eighteenth amendment, and this he does not consider probable.

"It is utterly impossible by amending the act to permit the sale and manufacture of beer and wine," Dr. Henius said, "as it is a recognized fact that wine is intoxicating and beer over three per cent may be. The eighteenth amendment prohibits the manufacture, sale and importing of intoxicating beverages. In order to get wine and beer restored to their former status it would be necessary to repeal the eighteenth amendment."

Dr. Henius believes, however, that specific modification of the Volstead act through definition of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage would be beneficial in removing some of the objections that now contribute to a certain measure of unpopularity now attached to the prohibition amendment.

As a suggested means of arriving at the definition of an intoxicating beverage Dr. Henius put forth the plan that a commission of 20 scientists—10 from the American Medical society and 10 from the American Chemical society—be named to settle the problem. This committee could report its decision to congress, he says, and its findings could be substituted, in the form of an amendment to the Volstead law, of one-half of one per cent, which is the prescribed limit of alcoholic content for any beverage. Dr. Henius says beverages containing less than three per cent alcohol should be classed as non-intoxicating.

SIX MILLION CHILDREN
IN U. S. LACK SCHOOLS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 14—Mark T. McKee, of Detroit, in an address here, in which he outlined a plan for a $10,000,000 home for the motherless and fatherless children to be established by a benevolent society, presented some startling statistics relating to children.

"There are 25,000,000 children of school age in the United States," said Mr. McKee. "Six million never see the inside of a schoolroom. Ninety-three out of every hundred never get beyond the elementary grades. The average daily attendance at school is only about 14,000,000. But seven children out of every hundred reach high school, and only five out of every hundred reach college. There are more than 5,000,000 people in the United States who can neither read nor write."

NEW YORK, March 14—A ghost-hunting expedition is the latest to be undertaken for mthia ultra-sophisticated city. Dr. Walter F. Prince, director of the American Institute for scientific research here, is about to leave on that mission, for Antigonish, Nova Scotia. The hunt will be conducted in an alleged haunted house which has been deserted by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McDonald, well-to-do Nova Scotians, who have found it impossible to live under the same roof with the so-called ghost. They accuse the spook of all sorts of infamies, including cruelty to animals and arson. Dr. Prince, who is going unaccompanied, will establish himself in the house with all the ancient and modern appliances for ghost trapping and hopes to have the restless spirit captured and card-cataloged in a few weeks.

Not all the sport fans in New York hang around a baseball bulletin or stand in line for fight tickets. A goodly number take their place in the Museum of Natural History and stand with their eyes fixed upon the quivering needle of the seismograph. They just wait on in the hope that some day there will be an earthquake somewhere while they are watching the needle and they will see it register. It's just one more search for a "thrill" that all-important present-day occupation.

A beautiful new white orchid from British Guiana named "Princess Mary" will be one of the attractions at the big international flower show to open soon at Grand Central Palace. An orange grove in full bloom will be another feature of the show. Prominent amateur flower growers from all directions will have part in it.

Humiliation reigns among the bold and boasting gangsters of New York. The two-gun man who wounded two detectives in a pistol battle the other night after a running fight through crowded East Side streets, has been discovered to be a man-milliner during his working hours. Here's more work for the psychologists.

One of the strangest cargoes to leave our port in several weeks was two crates of porcupines—two dozens live, round, very prickly porcupines.

unlike anything O'Neil has done before. The acting is of high order. Augustin Duncan plays the role of Curtis Jayson.

Speaking of the dreary school of drama, here is one of the things that give dramatists a right to be dreary. The Save-a-Life League of this city reports 20,000 suicides in this country during the past year, of which 840 were committed in New York City. This is a 100 per cent increase over 1920. Reaction after the war, disturbed economic conditions, the complexity of modern life, divorces and women's mode of dress are some of the contributing causes, the league believes. We have heard woman's dress accused of various things but never before of driving people to suicide. One man is reported to have killed himself because he told a lie to his wife.

INTEREST IN SERVICE

The services at the First Christian church are increasing in interest. Splendid services last night. The Cable Olette has charge of the song service. Song service begins tonight at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Come, worship with us.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter was always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet these times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and girls so much as so she began to take it. That in two years ago and she is a different girl since the able to do any work she wants to do—though she is at well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial." Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, it is well. So it is with women. So trouble may upset you completely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter. Mothers—it is worthy of your confidence.

POLLY AND HER PALS So Now Ashur's Not Going to "Waste" Any More Time

The Number of Hairs.
Data gathered in this relation show that fair-haired persons possess, on an average, between 140,000 and 160,000 hairs on the scalp, the number being about the same for men and women. Dark-haired persons have on an average, about 105,000, while red-haired persons are said to have only 30,000 hairs. But the latter apparently possess one great advantage in the fact that they retain their hair better, seldom becoming bald. Their hair is much coarser than that of dark or fair-haired persons.

YOUR HEALTH What You Should Know of Foot-and-Mouth Disease

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City

SOME diseases which animals have are occasionally transmitted to man. Fortunately this is not the rule. It is well that diseases are generally confined to the one particular species in which they originate. We have enough to fight against now, without having passed on to us all the ailments of the lower animals.

A serious disease in sheep, hogs and cattle is known as "foot-and-mouth disease." The peculiar thing about this disease in animals is that it shows itself in the mouth and on the feet, while the rest of the body escapes. There are blisters or ulcers involving the lining membrane of the mouth, the folds of the feet and the parts about the udder.

There are fever, increasing debility and loss of flesh. In young animals there is a high death rate on account of the infected milk of the mother.

When the disease becomes epidemic among animals there is danger that it may attack human beings. In man it is called "epidemic stomatitis" or epidemic sore mouth.

It is probable the infection is carried to the human family by the milk of the cow. Whether it may be transmitted by the flesh of diseased animals is a question.

The symptoms in man are similar to those found in animals. On the tongue and inside the lips may be little blisters. There is much redness of the parts, increased flow of saliva is noted, and the mouth feels hot and uncomfortable.

There may be some eruption on the hands, probably between the fingers. Confinement of the symptoms to the mouth and hands, while the rest of the body is free, is characteristic of this disease and of no other.

Modern methods of meat inspection and preservation of milk have made such a disease as this almost impossible. The human family is spared much suffering by reason of the careful methods of food supervision now provided by federal, state and city health laws.

There are many health authorities who preach against the use of meat. There can be no doubt their arguments would be much more effective were it not for the careful watch over meat products now provided by the authorities. Many of the evils traceable to meat consumption have been wiped out by the careful inspection carried on by health officials.

Proper cooking, too, has helped to make foot-and-mouth disease a very rare condition. When you are in doubt about the freshness or the purity of meat or milk, or other food products, thorough cooking or boiling will end your doubts. The dangers of infection disappear under the application of proper heat. A great authority has said:

"Cooking may be regarded as the greatest sanitary innovation ever introduced by man to protect himself against disease."

The treatment of foot-and-mouth disease is like the treatment of infected sore mouth from some other cause. Cleanliness, mild antiseptic solutions and various astringents are to be religiously observed and used. The general condition is improved by the use of the remedies your doctor will prescribe and by good food.

Powerful X-Ray.

A French scientist, chief of the bureau of radiography for the Paris hospitals, has demonstrated that an X-ray apparatus can photograph subjects through a stone wall more than 25 feet distant from the source of the rays. He has obtained clear photographs of metallic objects, the rays filtering through a marble plate more than an inch thick, 12 inches of oak, four inches of plaster and a sheet of lead one-eighth of an inch thick.

Latin Words in English Language.

Nearly one-third of the words in the English language are of Latin origin. Anglo-Saxon was spoken in England until the coming of William the Conqueror, in 1066. With the Norman invasion came the introduction of French into the English language. Several thousand of the French words were Latin with a few alterations. Later a still larger number of Latin words were introduced into the English language.

LETTER THREATENS BOMB OUTRAGES

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 14—A threat to blow up every Polish consulate in the United States and Canada was contained in a letter signed "American Ukrainian Blackhand," which was received today by Senator Willis, of Ohio, in an envelope postmarked Cleveland, March 13.

NEGRO TRIED

Theodore Williamson, negro, was assessed a fine of $100 and given six months on the city streets, in the Albany police court Monday morning. Williamson was charged with assault with a razor on the person of his wife. Several severe wounds were inflicted, occasioned by a family row.

Sentenced For Robbery Mails

(International News Service.)
BIRMINGHAM, March 14—After entering a plea of guilty to embezzlement of $9,000 of postal funds, John A. Smith, former assistant superintendent of mails, was sentenced this morning to three years in the federal prison at Atlanta, by Judge W. L.

Grubb, in the United States district court.

Chinese Superstition

In some parts of China two coins are put into the sleeve of the bride and are then shaken out, to test satisfaction or the reverse, at arrangements made for his time and interment. If the coin falls on the side upward, it is taken as a sign of approval; if not, as a sign of something has been omitted.
